The Arnhold Graduate Dance Education Program's two degree options are designed for artists and educators seeking personal growth and professional advancement.

5-Year BA/MA in Dance Education

The accelerated 5-year BA/MA program serves highly motivated students interested in both teacher certification in dance and a solid liberal-arts undergraduate education.

Our consolidated plan of study allows students to earn both their undergraduate and graduate degrees in Dance Education much faster than in traditional degree programs.

BA/MA candidates must demonstrate a potential for growth in dance artistry (technique, improvisation, choreography and performance), and a record of academic achievement.

MA in Dance Education

The Masters in Dance Education Program prepares dance artists and educators for the rigors of teaching the history, culture, and practice of dance in PreK-12 classrooms. It also provides students with the coursework required for professional certification for teaching dance in New York State.

Students enroll in one of three tracks:

- ➔ Track One: Applicants must have a liberal-arts bachelor's degree that satisfies the general education requirements of Hunter's School of Education, plus a minimum of 34 credits in dance.
- ➔ Track Two: Applicants must have initial PreK-12 certification in dance from New York State.
- ➔ Track Three: Applicants must have initial or permanent/professional certification in any content area, and a minimum of 34 credits in dance.
