Located in the heart of Manhattan near some of the world’s major museums, galleries, and stages, Hunter College is uniquely positioned to connect students with the arts both on and off campus.

As an undergrad or graduate student, you can choose from a rich array of arts majors and minors. Courses are taught by a distinguished faculty that includes many award-winning artists, and you will have access to studio space, stages, and galleries on campus. Programs featuring visiting artists and speakers provide frequent opportunities to meet leading artists, writers, performers, and other arts professionals, while student publications, clubs, and ensembles provide forums for showcasing students’ creative work.
