

Build a Board of Advisors

Build a board of advisors. In the first column, list your needs and desires. In the second column, list the people you think can meet your needs. In the final column, write ideas about how to approach those people.

What do I need or want?	Whom might I call on?	How can I approach this person?