HUNTER COLLEGE OF THE CITY UNIVERSITY OF NEW YORK
HUNTER-BELLEVUE SCHOOL OF NURSING

MASTER'S PROGRAM - ADULT NURSE PRACTITIONER

The Hunter-Bellevue School of Nursing of The City University of New York offers a CCNE-accredited adult nurse practitioner program leading to a Master of Science degree in nursing. The 42 credit program prepares nurses to assume a leadership role in adult nursing and primary care for adults in the community and in a variety of health care settings. The student has five years to complete degree requirements. Most courses are offered in the late afternoons and evenings. Graduates of the program are eligible for certification as adult nurse practitioners by New York State Education Department and by specialty organizations.

Course of Study

The program consists of nursing core and advance practice core courses shared with other master's degree students and specialization courses emphasizing normal adult development, primary health care, case management, health maintenance, and management of common problems found in adults. Specialization and elective courses provide a multidisciplinary approach to primary care. Preceptored experiences in leading health care institutions known for education, service and research are offered each semester for a total of 630 required clinical hours. Subspecializations in Nursing Persons with HIV/AIDS and Nursing Education are also available.

Requirements for Admission	Course Requirements
In addition to the graduate admission requirements of Hunter College, students applying to nursing must meet the following requirements: <ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1.
