ELEMENTARY

Italiano a 360 Gradi: $700
If you only know a few words: “Ciao!” “Buon giorno!”, but really don’t know any grammar or have much vocabulary, this is the course for you. You will learn how to pronounce words properly, how to greet each other formally and informally, how to introduce yourself, how to describe things using the present tense, how to ask for information. Teaching style includes various techniques, in order to meet the different learning styles of each student: guided conversations, role play, reading, listening, exercises from the text book and other sources, songs and video.

Mon. & Wed. 6:00-8:00pm 9/9-10/30

STORIA

Italian through History: “Una giornata nell’antica Roma: vita quotidiana, segreti E curiosità” Alberto Angela. $250
“The wondrous extravagance of banquets where flamingos are roasted whole and wine flows like rivers. The roar of frenzied spectators inside the Colosseum during a battle between gladiators. A crowd of onlookers gathered at a slave auction. The silent baths and the boisterous taverns. Many books have dealt with the history of ancient Rome, but none has been able to so engage its readers in the daily life of the Imperial capital.” Together the Book Group will discover the rituals of everyday life, secrets and curiosities that are still relevant today. Reading with grammar review and advanced conversation.

Thu. 12:00-2:00pm 10/31-12/5 (skips 11/28)

CONVERSAZIONE

That’s not Italian? $100
In addition to improving your language skills through a review and expansion of vocabulary, pronunciation, and grammar, this course will explain Italian culture and customs to help make your stay in Italy a valuable experience. Special emphasis will be given to understanding and using idiomatic language and slang, to relevant language functions, and to social norms and etiquette. Extremely useful for those who are planning to spend some time in Italy for leisure, study or work reasons, and need to know how to quickly adjust to local life and effectively function in everyday situations.

This class is designed for learners at the Advanced Beginner and Intermediate levels, and it will be conducted both in Italian and English, depending on the proficiency level of those attending.

Mon. 12:00-1:30pm 10/28-11/18

VIAGGIO
