- Actively served refugees and immigrants since early 1900s
- 1 of 10 national voluntary agencies contracted by Department of State to resettle refugees
- Currently resettle almost 30% of all refugees through a network of over 100 local non-profit agencies
One of two voluntary agencies that resettle unaccompanied refugee children (USCCB and LIRS)

Manage national services to victims of human trafficking

Developed child welfare services to unaccompanied undocumented children in federal custody

Provide Technical Assistance on migrating children and child welfare
Our changing demographics . . .
Refugees and Immigrants in the US

- Over 30 million immigrants and refugees live in the US today (highest number in US history).
- Almost one in four children in the U.S. today are immigrants or children of immigrants (up from 13% in 1990).
Where they come from now...

- One half are from Latin America; over one quarter are from Asia.
- 50% come from war-torn and poverty-stricken countries.
- Of almost 9 million children added to US population between 1990-2000, over half were Hispanic.

New Immigrants and Poverty

- Varies greatly by country of origin

- New immigrants from the following countries have a poverty rate of 35% or higher:

  El Salvador               Haiti
  Guatemala                 Vietnam
  Nicaragua                 Cambodia
  Honduras                  Laos
  Mexico                    Thailand
  Dominican Republic        Former Soviet Union
The majority of people originally from these countries came as:

- refugees (Southeast Asia, Russia, Eastern Europe)
- were escaping civil war and generalized violence (El Salvador, Guatemala, Nicaragua, Haiti)
- have traditionally provided unskilled labor to the US (Mexico, Honduras, Dominican Republic).

These twelve groups account for over 50% of all foreign-born immigrants in the United States.
Immigrants from these same countries...

- Tend to have less formal education
- Tend to work at low-status and low-paying entry-level jobs
- Are less likely to speak English upon arrival
- Are more likely to have one parent or household member who is not a US citizen
- Have less access to government services and benefits

ALL RISK FACTORS FOR POVERTY...
Child welfare involvement is often related to poverty, cultural differences in childrearing, misunderstandings & miscommunications, as well as to family conflict
Definitions

- Legal immigrant
  - Usually comes with guarantee of employment or to join family members

- Refugee / Asylee
  - Fleeing persecution
  - Usually unplanned; often have long, difficult journey; may have lost family members, had physical/emotional trauma
  - Legal immigrant with special status

- Undocumented
  - May enter country without legal immigration status or overstay visa. May be fleeing poverty, conditions of war, gangs, etc.
  - Unaccompanied children in federal custody can enter specialized programs
Definitions, cont’d

- Victim of Human Trafficking
- “T” and “U” Visas
- Special Immigrant Juvenile Status (SIJS)
  - Enables undocumented children who were abused, neglected, or abandoned to petition for lawful permanent resident status, provided they came under the protection of a state court.
- Unaccompanied/Separated Child
- Temporary Protective Status/Deferred Enforced Departure
  - Due to conditions of war or other devastation in country of origin, grants legal status until those conditions improve.

85% of all children in non-citizen families are in MIXED STATUS families.
Migration and Child Welfare

- Changing face of America
- Federal Legislation

Safety, permanency, and well-being for ALL children in the U.S.

Progress:
- Annie E. Casey Foundation: Convening and resulting publication in 2005
- CWLA: Seminal journal issue 2005
- American Humane Association: Roundtable in July 2006, seminal journal issue Challenges...

- Cultural differences
  - Family structure
  - Communication
  - Childrearing practices: supervision, discipline
- Diversity of languages spoken, need for trained interpreters
- Literacy
Challenges, cont’d

- Immigration status – importance of timely application for relief
- Access to benefits may be limited, lack of awareness of benefits available
- Parents, other family may be in different country
- Recruiting ethnically/linguistically similar foster homes
- Licensing relative caregivers
Promising Practices...

- Immigration and Language Guidelines for Child Welfare Staff – NYC ACS
  - Children’s Services Sub-Committee on Immigration and Language Access
  - Handbook on Immigration and Language Access
  - Language Card
  - Director of Immigrant Issues
  - Training
  - Local orders and laws on “non-cooperation” and language access
Promising Practices, cont’d

- System for screening and applying for immigration relief – L.A.’s SIJS Unit
- Partnerships between public child welfare agencies and experienced CBOs - St. Louis, Missouri; Falls Church, VA
- Training: Culturally competent assessment, services, foster families
- Unaccompanied Refugee Minor Programs
Promising Practices, cont’d

- Easing licensing requirements for relative caregivers
- MOU’s with Foreign Consulates, International Social Services (ISS) for home studies
- Violence Against Women Act (VAWA) – enables battered women and their children to obtain legal status
Questions for Cases:

1. What challenges would you find especially difficult?
2. What would you suggest in this case?
3. Would any of the “promising practices” listed earlier be helpful here?
4. What steps might you take in your own agency to improve services to immigrants?
