

Learning Communities

Learning Community 1: Health and Community

(Pre-Nursing, Nutrition, Human Biology, Community Health)

LC 1 provides a foundation for future study in Community Health, Human Biology, Nursing, and Nutrition. It explores the dynamic relationship between health professions and society. Some of the courses students will take include: CHEM 100 Essentials of General Chemistry, CHEM 101 Inquiry into the nature of matter, PSYCH 100 Introduction to Psychology

Learning Community 2: Science and the Medical Professions

LC 2 is intended for students whose long-term career goal is in scientific research or the medical professions. Courses in this LC include CHEM 102LC General Chemistry I, SOC 101 Introduction to Sociology and appropriate Math based on placement.

Learning Community 3: Money, Power and Social Responsibility

(Pre-Business, Pre-Law)

Students taking LC 3 will have an opportunity to discover and reflect upon the connections across the fields of politics, economics, and law. Courses include POLSC 110 American Government, ECO 100 Principles of Economics: Microeconomics or ECO 200 Principles of Micro Economics (for majors), PHILO 104 Introduction to Ethics and PHILO 106 Philosophy, Politics and Society.

Learning Community 4: Mihi Cura Futuri (Care of the Future is Mine)

(Education)

LC 4 is intended for students interested in teaching, and fulfills the prerequisites for students who intend to pursue programs in Hunter's School of Education. Before learning about effective teaching strategies and innovations in curriculum and development, acquire a solid foundation in the liberal arts and sciences. Some of the courses in this LC include GEOG 101 People and Their Environment, HIST 151 US Colonial Period to the Civil War or HIST 152 US Civil War to Present, POLSC 110 American Government, ARTH 111 or MUSHL 101. Students may also opt for a Foreign Language at proficiency level.

Learning Community 5: Technology and Communications in a Global Society

Humanities and Arts I (Media, Language and Technology)

Students in LC 5 will have an opportunity to explore particular areas in liberal arts that are language, media, and technology based. Courses in this LC include MEDIA 180 Introduction to Media Studies, CSCI 127 Introduction to Computer Science, CLA 110 Greek and Latin Roots of English, ANTHC 151 Introduction to Linguistics. Students may also opt for a Foreign Language at proficiency level.

Learning Community 6: Exploring Gotham

Humanities and the Arts II (Arts, Culture, Society and the City)

Students in LC 6 will have the opportunity to explore the disciplines of creative expression, including arts, film, music and theatre and their connections with culture, history, city and society. Coursework will include options for FILM 101 Introduction to Cinema, ARTH 111 introduction to the History of Art, THEA 101 Introduction to Theatre, as well as URBS 101 Urban Life, ANTHC 101 Introduction to Culture or SOC 101 Introduction to Sociology.

Learning Community 7: Individual and Society

Social Sciences I (Psychology/BSW)

Students in LC 7 will have an opportunity to explore interests in clinical and experimental psychology as well as social, welfare and health services. Courses in this LC include PSYCH 100 Introduction to Psychology, PHILO 101 Introduction to Philosophy, SOC 101 Introduction to Sociology, BIOL 150 CSI Hunter: Forensic Biology.

Learning Communities 8: Diversity and Democracy

Social Sciences II (US History and Government)

Students in the Learning Community (LC) 8 will explore the history, social and cultural characteristics and tensions between culturalism, diversity and democracy in the United States. Coursework includes ANTHC 100 Cultural Diversity in the US, HIST 151 US Colonial Period to the Civil War, HIST 152 US Civil War to Present, POLSC 110 American Government, as well as URBS 101 Urban Life, WGS 100 Women and Gender Studies, AFPRL 100 Introduction to Black Politics

Learning Communities 9: Exploring the Arts and Sciences

LC 9 is intended for students who are yet undecided about a major but interested in exploring the introductory courses for majors in Arts and Sciences. Courses in this LC include options ANTHP 105 The Human Species, BIOL 150 CSI Hunter: Forensic Biology, GEOL 105 Introduction to Environmental Geoscience, CSCI 127 Introduction to Computer Science, as well as MEDIA 180 Introduction to Media Studies, MUSHL 101 1000 Years of Listening, CLA 110 Greek and Latin Roots of English and URBS 101 Urban Life, among others.