

JFEW Trip to Washington D.C. May 2015

2 Year Scholarship, Paid Internship, Career Building Workshops, Travel to Washington D.C.

Interested in Public Service and Public Policy? The JFEW Eleanor Roosevelt Scholars Program is Recruiting NOW

If you are a sophomore and are interested in being a change agent, please consider applying to the JFEW Eleanor Roosevelt Scholars Program, a two-year scholarship program for students interested in careers in public service or public policy.

Students selected to be JFEW Eleanor Roosevelt Scholars will receive generous tuition assistance scholarships, a paid internship placement in the Summer of 2017, and access to special events and dedicated workshops at the Roosevelt House Public Policy Institute. Generously funded by the Jewish Foundation for the Education of Women, JFEW Eleanor Roosevelt Scholars are of diverse backgrounds. Participation in the program is open to both men and women.

Program participants will be selected during their sophomore year on the basis of academic achievement, demonstrated leadership in academic and community activities, financial need, and the articulation of the applicants' interest in pursuing careers related to public policy and public service.

In order to be considered for the Program, an applicant must:

- a. Be enrolled as a full-time student for each semester during the Program;
- b. Demonstrate financial need (must have a current FAFSA on file);
- c. Maintain a grade point average (GPA) of 3.2 or better for each semester during the Program;
- d. Demonstrate a strong connection to New York City;
- e. Be a U.S. citizen or lawful permanent resident of the U.S.; and
- f. Have a demonstrated commitment to the fields of public policy and public service

Participants in the program typically come from the Arts & Sciences, Education or Public Health however, candidates from other majors will be considered on a case-by-case basis if they are strong candidates committed to careers in public service.

Applicants to the Program cannot be enrolled in the CUNY Macaulay Honors Program.

DEADLINE TO SUBMIT APPLICATION: FRIDAY, APRIL 1
