

A Special Invitation to a Public Policy Roundtable on the Challenges of Enhancing Early Intervention Services for Toddlers with Autism Spectrum Disorder

Saturday, March 5th 2011 • 9:30am to 7:00pm

Held at the Roosevelt House Public Policy Institute at Hunter College

TODDLERS WITH AUTISM IN NEW YORK CITY

SPEAKERS

Peter H. Bell

Executive Vice President for Programs and Services at Autism Speaks

Alice S. Carter

Professor of Psychology, University of Massachusetts, Boston

Susan L. Hyman

Associate Professor of Pediatrics, University of Rochester Medical Center

Michael Ganz

Adjunct Assistant Professor of Society, Human Development, and Health, Harvard University

Barbara Kalmanson

Academic Dean, ICDL Graduate School; Clinical Psychologist

Gary Mesibov

Former Director of Division TEACCH; Professor Emeritus of Psychology, University of North Carolina

Donna M. Noyes

Associate Director for Clinical Policy, Bureau of Early Intervention, NYS Department of Health

Marilyn Rubinstein

Director, Early Childhood Direction Center, New York Presbyterian Hospital

Laura Slatkin

Parent of a Child with Autism; Founder of the New York Center for Autism

Wendy Stone

Director, University of Washington Autism Center; Professor of Psychology

Fred R. Volkmar

Chair, Child Study Center at Yale University; Chief, Child Psychiatry at Yale-New Haven Children's Hospital; Irving B. Harris Professor in the Child Study Center and Professor of Pediatrics, of Psychiatry and of Psychology

Amy Wetherby

Director, Florida State University Autism Institute; Distinguished Research Professor in the College of Medicine; L.L. Schendel Professor of Communication Disorders

FOCUS AREAS

- Implementing Developmental Surveillance and Screening
- Communicating with Parents about Diagnosis and Intervention
- Making Appropriate Referrals
- Developing Appropriate Services
- Making Appropriate Services Accessible to Families
- Funding Appropriate Services

For more information about the Roundtable Agenda, the Hunter College Autism Center, directions to the Roosevelt House Public Policy Institute and additional detailed information and resources go to:

<http://www.hunter.cuny.edu/autismroundtable>

To register for this invitation-only policy roundtable, please email Dr. Michael Siller, Assistant Professor of Psychology and Co-Director of the Hunter College Autism Center at autismroundtable@hunter.cuny.edu.

Spaces are limited and available on a first come first served basis.

SPONSORED BY:

HUNTER COLLEGE AUTISM CENTER

<http://www.hunter.cuny.edu/autismcenter>

&

The FAR Fund

<http://www.farfund.org>

IN COLLABORATION WITH:

DEPARTMENT OF PEDIATRICS, WEILL CORNELL MEDICAL COLLEGE

<http://www.cornellpediatrics.org>

